

【Invitation】 GTI Consortium Symposium 2021 on Dec. 9 (Thu)

To whom it may concern

Greeting from SIT, Japan.

This is Yuya Miyasaka, the international section of Shibaura Institute of Technology Japan and I am in charge of GTI. (Global Technology Initiative) consortium.

Today, I would like to inform you that GTI annual symposium will be held on December 9, 2021, online.

GTI Consortium has been established in 2015 to foster global engineers/scientists and create technological innovations by strengthening the collaborations between industry-government-academia based in Japan and Southeast Asian countries. Currently, GTI Consortium members consist of 9 government agencies, 40 universities, and 182 industries.

The theme of the symposium will be "Industry-Academia-Government Collaboration for Workforce Expertise Development" and the keynote address is "Industry-Academia-Government Collaboration at Institut Teknologi Sepuluh Nopember (Indonesia)". Institut Teknologi Sepuluh Nopember is active in industry-academia-government collaboration and hopes to collaborate with GTI Consortium member institutions.

As case studies, they will report on global PBL, participation of working people in university programs, and good practices in inter-university collaboration to solve social issues through industry-academia-government collaboration, which will lead to further activation of activities in the future.

This symposium is open to those who are considering joining the consortium and those who are interested in the activities.

We appreciate your kind attendance at the online symposium and also the admission to the consortium.
