Language Proficiency Requirements ( English )	Please submit certificates of English proficiency (TOEFL, IELTS, TOEIC etc..)

Language Proficiency Requirements ( Japanese ) ☞ Undergraduate students	Japanese proficiency (at least JLPT N2 or equivalent )required. As all classes at OMU are taught in Japanese, for undergraduate students it is absolutely necessary to have a reasonable level of Japanese language proficiency, otherwise they will have difficulty following course content. Our general indication is that they should have followed 90 hours of Japanese language classes and ideally have a level equivalent to the N2 level or higher of the Japanese Language Proficiency Test. A letter of endorsement of ability to converse and use the Japanese language at a satisfactory level issued by the home university, is required for candidates who do not have certificates.
Language Proficiency Requirements (Japanese) Graduate students	Classes for graduate students are also in Japanese, but students may be able to do research in English (with or without following any classes), provided there is a professor that is willing to supervise them. Please inform us of candidates' field of interest and we will try to find supervisors. *Graduate Schools of Engineering, Informatics, and Science have courses taught in English.
Required documents for the exchange application	We send the required documents about 2 months earlier than the application deadline by e-mail.
